WOOD'S LAWN GRASSES

MADE WITH ONLY THE FINEST QUALITY TURF-PRODUCING GRASSES

To Make a Lawn

The Fall months are always considered as being particularly favorable for the seeding of new lawns or the reseeding of old ones. For new lawns preparation of the seed bed is of the greatest importance and too much care cannot be given to this. The ground should be broken and thoroughly pulverized to a depth of at least six inches. If the land needs lime it should be applied at this time and well worked in. Repeated raking of the surface at intervals of several days will aid in killing any volunteer foreign growth and help to provide a clean seed bed. One or two days before seeding work a good application of Wood's High-Grade Sheep Manure into the top two or three inches. Broadcast the seed evenly, half one way and half the other, cover lightly either by raking or with a drag and roll with a light roller. Keep moist, using a fine spray to avoid washing and after germination is well started water only when necessary. Pull out any weeds that appear.

What Grass to Sow

In Virginia and farther north, in westerly sections of the Carolinas and farther west, sow Wood's Super-Green, Wood's Evergreen and Shady Park Lawn Grasses. In other parts of South sow Wood's Emerald Park Grass. Under trees and shaded places sow Wood's Shady Park Lawn Grass.

Renewing Old Lawns

Every Fall and Spring sow more seed. Cut the grass close, apply a good fertilizer and rake in and broadcast the seed evenly, one pound or more per 500 square feet, according to the stand and again run the mower over the lawn. This will put the seed into the soil. Water freely.

How to Cut Your Lawn

Cut when two to three inches high and keep cut regularly but never shorter than one and one-half inches unless during cool weather. Be sure your mower is kept sharp. A dull mower bruises and injures the grass. During hot weather it is advisable to raise the mower blades.

Wood's Winter-Green Lawn Grass

As its name implies, this Lawn Mixture will produce a beautiful green lawn through the winter months when many other grasses are dormant or not at their best. Especially recommended for broadcasting on top of established lawns to freshen them up during the cold months. To seed, simply cut the existing lawn close, rake with a sharp rake, broadcast 1 to 2 lbs. of Wood's Winter Green Lawn Grass per 100 square feet and again run the mower over the lawn. The result will be a velvety green lawn through the winter months. For best results, seeding should be done not later than October, although later seeding will produce good results if the weather remains open.

Avoid Expensive Feeds

Plant Wood's Grain Pasture & Hay Mixtures

Feed prices are the highest on record. Feed purchases can be avoided by grazing Wood's Grain Pasture Mixture all fall, winter and spring, and filling your barn with Wood's Hay Grain Mixture next summer. These low cost feeds are high in feeding value and will keep all of your livestock in greater production. These mixtures are much more productive and nutritious than oats, barley or any other crop sown alone. They produce a balanced ration of proteins, vitamins and other food elements. They furnish fine winter cover crops that improve the soil and protect it from erosion.

Sow 100 lbs. per acre. Early seedings give longer grazing or more hay. A good application of complete fertilizer while planting, and a top dressing of nitrogen when the grain is 2 or 3 inches tall pays well. Either mixture sown 50 lbs. per acre is an ideal nurse crop for seeding grass or clover.

WOOD'S GRAIN PASTURE MIXTURE

Furnishes more grazing in less time and at less cost than any other fall crop. The grains are balanced with legumes to supply protein for growth and warmth during the winter.

Includes every ingredient for continuous grazing throughout fall, winter and spring. Contains the ideal proportions of hairy vetch, Austrian winter peas, crimson clover, rape, abuzzi rye, winter barley, winter oat and smooth wheat. Relished by all livestock it is particularly popular for poultry and hogs as it contains rape properly balanced with grain so it cannot cause bloating. Its use has increased enormously in all sections of the South and East, proving its wonderful value and dependability.

Wood's Permanent Hay Mixtures produce tremendous yields of the finest quality hay, which is easily cured. They continue to bear abundantly for many years, minimizing the original seeding cost. They contain Ladino Clover, Alta Fescue and a wide assortment of the finest grasses and clovers which mature together for hay and can be depended on for several big cuttings each year in good or bad seasons. The grasses are properly balanced with alfalfa, clovers and lespedezas, increasing the palatability, protein and feeding value. The hay is relished by all livestock.

ALTA or KENTUCKY 31 FESCUE

The Best Pasture or Hay Grass for the South or East
Clemson, S. C.: "Most promising grass in our generation. A very heavy producer, extremely winter hardy. Gives year-round grazing. It grew 6 months under water in S. C. In Fla. 300 acres on poor, sandy soil furnished green grazing in a long drought that killed weeds and briars. Alta and Ky. 31 Fescue are identical."

At N. C. State it made 5 cuttings per summer, yielding 5,161 lbs. dry matter per acre, nearly double orchard grass. It made the highest hay yield of all forage crops in a 6-year state test. It furnishes pasture in winter, producing heavily in early spring and late fall when other grasses are dormant. 50 dairy cattle could not graze down 10 acres from April to July, giving a wonderful milk production. They are plowing up the best blue grass sods in Ky. to seed it. It is palatable to all livestock and equal in food value to the best grasses. It is darker green and stays greener in summer or winter than orchard grass, and is far more disease resistant. It takes a season to get established, then crowds out weeds.

Stands 30 years old still produce vigorously. Plowing destroys it. Its roots go down 9 ft. in hard soil finding moisture in severe droughts. It produces abundantly in cold or hot weather, in dry or wet seasons, on acid, dry, poor or rich soils. It does very well on wet soils. It is a bunch grass but forms a heavy dense sod when seeded heavily. Sow alone 15 lbs. per acre. It does best sown 5 to 12 lbs. in mixtures with alfalfa, lespedeza, ladino or other clovers to furnish nitrogen. A well prepared firm seed bed is best. Can be sown on old firm sods by scarifying them. Sow in any month, but Sept. to early Nov. seedings are best. Lime very acid soils. Heavy complete fertilization pays.

Grazing Wood's Grain Pasture Mixture in early spring before other pastures are ready. Small grains, combined with winter legumes furnish fall and winter grazing, which saves labor, reduces grain requirements, provides cheaper feed, makes healthier animals and returns greater profits. Pasture is the most economical feed for livestock.

WOOD'S HAY GRAIN MIXTURE

The best early hay mixture possible to sow. Makes a much heavier yield that is far more palatable and nutritious than oats or any other crop sown alone. Hay is easy to cure and relished by all livestock. It contains winter oats, smooth wheat, beardless barley, properly balanced with hairy vetch, Austrian winter peas and crimson clover. The legumes increase the protein and feeding value of the hay and enrich the soil.

Sow Wood's Special Grass and Clover Mixtures

For Permanent Hay and Pasture Crops Contains Ladino Clover and Alta Fescue

Fall is the Best Time for Seeding Grass and Clover.

Plants make a strong root growth during the cool months and are better established to withstand summer heat than if sown in the spring. They can be seeded safely until the middle of October, but early fall seeding is best if weather permits. Soil should be limed and well prepared, fine but firm. If a cultipacker is used more seeds will come up. Heavy applications of fertilizer at seeding time and as a top dressing each year, pay big dividends.

Sow 30 to 35 lbs. per acre of Wood's Special Grass and Clover Mixtures. For over half a century they have proved their superiority as economical, heavy and permanent producers of nutritious hay and pasture crops. We have added Ladino Clover and Alta Fescue to insure vigorous growth in cold or hot weather, in dry or wet seasons. They are slow in becoming established, but are long lived and increase in productivity with age. Other ingredients in our mixtures grow quickly, assuring good crops from the start. Our mixtures are far superior to seeding these two crops alone.

WOOD'S PERMANENT HAY MIXTURES Nos. 6 to 8

Contains grasses and clovers which mature at the same time, making bumper hay crops, which are easily cured.

No. 6. For light gravelly or sandy soil.

No. 7. For good loam or clay soil.

No. 8. For moist bottom land.

WOOD'S PERMANENT PASTURE MIXTURES Nos. 1 to 3

Contains grasses and clovers which make their maximum growth at different times throughout the year, furnishing abundant nutritious, year-round grazing.

No. 1. For light gravelly or sandy soil.

No. 2. For good loam soil.

No. 3. For moist bottom land.

Wood's Southern Permanent Pasture and Hay Mixture No. 12

A fine mixture for hay or pasture in the Southern Coastal and Gulf States. Suitable to both light and heavy soils.

LADINO CLOVER

The Wonder Pasture Clover. Produces a heavy tonnage of rich succulent feed relished by all livestock. Furnishes up to 12 months' grazing. Many purebred stock growers use it for hay exclusively for its excellent quality, rich in protein and food value. A giant strain of White Dutch Clover, it grows faster, over a foot tall, and recovers quickly when mowed or heavily grazed. A perennial it reseeds and thickens each year but is not a pest. Thrives best on fertile lowlands. Grows well on fertile uplands if limed. Use a heavy application of balanced fertilizer. Inoculate and seed in early fall, 4 to 6 lbs. alone. It is better to seed 3 lbs. in grass mixtures on well prepared seedbeds and cover with cultipacker, or broadcast on old sods, harrowing before and after seeding. Adapted throughout the South and East.

Wood's Treated Grain

99% Pure. Over 90% Germination

Triple Cleaned to Eliminate Weeds and Shrivelled Grains Grows More Vigorously. Make Bumper Crops of High Quality Grain that Brings Top Prices on the Market. All Wood's Seed Wheat, Oats and Barley are Ceresan Treated to insure better Stands and Disease-Free Crops.

Our own staff of experienced plant breeders, assisted by Experiment Station officials, constantly breed and improve our strains of small grains. The State Crop Improvement Association carefully inspects our breeding fields as well as the larger fields grown from this foundation or certified seed that produce the seed we offer you. These fields are carefully rogued before harvest to eliminate any mixture.

We grow more small grain seed than any other firm in the South. In addition to our large acreage in the Carolinas the Virginia Crop Improvement Association reports that 4,339 acres of our small grains passed field inspection for certification in Virginia against 3,801 acres for all other sources.

ORDER WOOD'S HYBRID CORN NOW

Since 1927 Bred and Grown in the South and East

Prospects are for only 50% of a normal crop of Hybrid Seed, due to the late spring, followed by severe drought and heat in most of the producing areas. 67% of all corn in Virginia is now hybrid. Authorities predict 75% in 1940. Other Southern States are likewise increasing their hybrid acreage. Record high grain markets will stimulate the greatest demand for Hybrid Seed in history.

Fortunately, we have some excellent Hybrid seed crops where the season was favorable. We just installed the latest hybrid grading machinery and the quality and appearance of our seed will be the best we ever shipped. Advanced orders are 50% larger than ever before. Place your order at today's price for next spring delivery.

WOOD'S BIRD SCATTER FOOD

Attracts song birds to your home; doves, quail and wild turkey to your farm; ducks and geese to your marshes. Feed it regularly in winter, especially in snows when little native food is left. Birds range far to find it. It furnishes nourishment and warmth in the coldest weather. Native birds will remain and repay you many times over with the insect pests they destroy the next summer. Migrating birds will return to your marshes the following winter. Birds never forget where they found food when they needed it.

Birds need a variety of food to keep healthy and able to withstand the hardships of winter. Our formula, prepared by highest authority, has a wide assortment of seeds sought after by birds. It is used by many bird clubs and other wildlife conservation organizations.

Daffodils and Jonquils

Among early spring flowers these are in the front rank of popularity. Appearing just after winter, they animate our gardens with masses of gold and silver, while their fragrant blossoms in the home are invaluable for decorative purposes.

Culture Out-of-Doors: All varieties of Narcissus should be grown in clumps and patches in every suitable spot, and there is not a spot where grass will grow in which Narcissus will not succeed. In planting be guided by the size of the bulb, allowing 4 to 5 inches between small sorts and 6 to 8 inches between large varieties. The bulbs will soon completely fill the space, forming a compact mass, and it is then their flowers are produced the most freely. Plant about 5 inches deep, according to the size of the bulb.

WOOD'S HYACINTHS

CULTURE IN POTS: Use any good soil, mixed with sand, potting so as to leave the top of the bulb even with the soil. For a single plant use 4 or 5-inch pot; but the effect will be prettier if several bulbs are planted in a larger pot, and still more effective if all are of one color. Press the soil firmly around the bulbs, but do not pack it underneath. Sink the pot in the earth about 6 inches, covering with soil, choosing a location that is not too wet. For a succession of bloom, bring the first out about December 1st, and every two weeks thereafter, until February 1st. Keep moderately warm and when they begin to bloom, give plenty of water, and as much fresh air as possible. Too much heat dries up the flower and shortens the blooming period.

CULTURE IN OPEN GROUND: Any good garden soil will suit. If clay or very heavy, do not cover more than 3 inches; if light, from 4 to 6 inches. Protect with manure, leaves or coarse litter to prevent freezing.
